School of Professional Studies in
Business and Education
Graduate Division of Business and Management

Wednesday, October 4, 2006

6:00 PM - 8:00 PM

Room 106

1625 Massachusetts Avenue, NW
Washington, DC 20036

Featured speakers:

John Robert Pugh, CFA, president of the CFA Society of Washington, and practitioner faculty in the Johns Hopkins Graduate Division of Business and Management, will discuss the CFA examination process (Levels I, II, and III) and the educational programs offered by the CFA Society of Washington to prepare for the examinations.

James Bailey, CFA, has nine years of investment experience in security analysis. Before joining Resolute Capital Management, James Bailey was an analyst for Washington International Advisors, an international investment firm, where he worked on emerging market securities. Bailey, a CFA since 1999, is a member of the CFA Institute and serves on the Board of Directors of the CFA Society of Washington as Chairman of the Education Committee. He has also served as a grader of the CFA exam.

Michael G. McMillan, PhD, CFA, CPA, will be available to answer general questions about the CFA examination process and recommend finance and accounting courses that will help you to prepare for the examinations. He is a member of the Council of Examiners of the CFA Institute, grader of the CFA examinations, Vice President and member of the Board of Directors of the CFA Society of Washington, and full-time faculty member in the Johns Hopkins Graduate Division of Business and Management.

Additional speakers will be students from Johns Hopkins Business who are CFA charter holders, or who are currently preparing to sit for the Level II and Level III examinations.

RSVP by October 2 to Julie Nussdorfer at
