

Department of English
Graduate Seminars - Spring 2008

060.619 (H,W) – Spenser and Ethics – Halpern

Th 1-4pm

We will read The Faerie Queene in the light of philosophical ethics – principally Aristotle but also more recent theorists and commentators, mostly of an anti-Kantian persuasion. (Limit 9)

060.670 (H,W) – Henry James –Cameron

Th 9-12pm

A reading of the major novels. (Limit 9)

060.681 (H,W)- Literary Theory –Anderson

W 1-4pm

This course will examine key texts of theory that have strongly influenced the practice of literary criticism in recent decades. We will also analyze important debates within the theoretical field as well as metacritiques of certain tendencies within theory. (Limit 9)

060.696 Journal Club

060.800 Independent Study